

INDIANA, PENNSYLVANIA, FLORIDA, DELAWARE, CONNECTICUT.

FREMONT.—Support me, Fred. I believe that $900,000 shot has done the business for me. Those cattle hunt me still. How did they all find out that Mariposa was such a humbug? "The spirits I have raised abandon me!" Old Buck is too much for me.

FILMORE.—I didn't know old Buck was such a good shot. Good heavens! Where are my "American friends?" Surely they can't have left me to die alone on the field of battle! Remember your oaths! Remember the Pope! Remember the cursed foreigners! I wish I were back in the Lodge! I can't stand this broad daylight: it's too much for me.

LOUISVILLE TIMES.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1896.

CAPT. READLY

Will speak at the following times and places. At Gilman's Barbecue, on the 28th. At Newstead, with Hon. Linn Boyd on the 29th. At Jeffersonville, Saturday, Nov. 1st.

RALLY TO THE DEMOCRATIC BARBECUE AT Gilman's on Thursday, Nov. 28th.—All and every body from every precinct and county in the State are invited.

The Democracy of Indiana are invited to come in delegations and masses from every township. The Democratic ticket of Indiana just elected, is particularly invited—a place is provided and set apart for their entertainment.

A United States banner will be presented to the largest delegation to this meeting.

THE BARBECUE AT GILMAN'S.—The Barbecue at Gilman's on Tuesday, will be a glorious gathering of Democracy, and Louisville should send a thousand Democrats to participate in its festivities.

Arrangements have been made for two special trains of cars to take all who wish to attend—one train to start at 9 o'clock, and another at 10 o'clock. Returning, one train will leave at half past 3 o'clock, and the other at 5 o'clock. The price of the trip, going and returning, will be 25 cents.

Gov. Willard, R. W. Woolley, and other distinguished orators will be present. Provision has been made to feed all who may attend.

We had the pleasure yesterday of taking by the hand our Democratic friend, John Roberts, Esq., who has returned to the city after filling a list of appointments in Hardin, Meade, Breckinridge and Hancock counties. He brings cheering news of our friends in that part of the State, and anticipates large gains for the Democratic party. Mr. Roberts has done excellent service for his party, and deserves its gratitude.

THE IRISH OUTRAGES OF THE JOURNAL.—The Journal of yesterday gives several supposed instances of Irish outrages on the roads near this city. The Journal's friends were exceedingly fortunate in having fast horses. The Journal does not give the time made by his several horses. But we bet our money on Hancock—we take Hancock against the field; and if any body will not bet that way, we bet on him against time. We believe he made 2:30.

Try again Mr. Journal, this won't do.

THE FULMONT MEETING LAST NIGHT.—We did not go to the speaking at the Court House last night. It was advertised that N. Wolfe, Esq., would speak, but we understand that Gen. Wm. Picher was the orator of the occasion. That the General, as usual, was repeatedly and vociferously applauded by his friends, and that the enthusiasm ran so high that an enthusiastic Kentuckian accompanied each burst of applause with a blast on a horn. This the General considered an equivocal compliment, and expostulated with his windy friend, and declared it an insult to the ladies present. The offending member declared he meant no insult, and was himself as good an American (?) as anybody. At this juncture considerable excitement prevailed, and the ladies rushed from the room, and the gallantry of the gentlemen took most of them with the ladies, and thus broke up the General's meeting.

This incident is known to the General rather like to know his own trumpet, and the unkindness of him that could give the General was interrupting him in the delightful pleasure of speech-making.

See advertisement in to-day's Times of Boarders Wanted. This is an excellent house for the accommodation of families. They can also accommodate a few day boarders by application at Mrs. Curd's, corner of Eighth and Jefferson streets, over T. L. Dix's Drug Store.

THE MYNNA, Consisting of Dr. Curtis's Inhalant Vapor and Cherry Syrup, is emphatically a scientific medicine. Dr. C. having had the advice and assistance of a distinguished Professor of one of the best medical colleges in the United States. For coughs and deep-seated consumption it affords relief more certainly than any other preparation. Raymond & Patten are the agents. d&v.

Hon. A. P. Willard, Governor elect of Indiana, will address the people on the 28th at the Gilman Barbecue, 29th at Newstead, 30th at Bardonia, 31st at Shelbyville.

The card of P. A. Ruhl, manufacturer of and dealer in fringes, corals, tassels, gimp, trimmings, etc., will be found in our columns. His stock of goods is large and varied, and his work portraiture beautiful and neat. Mr. R. did the embroidery on the splendid train exhibited by Mr. O'Hare at the Mechanics' Fair. Mr. Ruhl's store is at 115 Fourth street, a few doors north of Jefferson.

Reader, have you a bald head, grey hair, pimples on the face or a rough skin? If so, do you use Wood's Hair Restorative, and thank us for telling you; it is worth all the preparations in use. It contains no oil, and when used to change grey hair, acts directly on the scalp (and not as a dye) changing the color through the roots. To be had at 44, Fourth st.

Mr. Louis Schroeder, son of our fellow-citizen J. H. Schroeder, Esq., was a passenger in the steamship Hermann, which arrived at New York on Friday from Bremen. Young Schroeder has been travelling over the continent of Europe for the last three months.

CHILL AND FEVER.—If afflicted with that disease, do not delay to procure a bottle of Par's Ague Tonic, or Selsb's for Quinine.

Stein, on Market street, or Harley, corner of 7th and Green, have a supply in store.

The Ches. Morgan has arrived with Galveston dates to the 14th. We learn from the front-page papers that Vidauri has taken Mier without resistance, after which he moved against Camargo which place was defended by 1300 troops. Vidauri has 3,000 men. Some skirmishes have already taken place.

AN OPEN CONFERENCE.—GOOD FOR THE SCUL.—The answer to Webster's article of Friday was deferred until to-day, giving them time to consider our challenge, and take back certain assertions made in reference to the character of a lady whom he saw proper to call Flame. When I read the article my blood boiled with rage for the first time, seeing that men would resort to any and every means to attract the attention of the public from what I had said. However, I leave them to judge. I have said nothing but what I can stand up to, and I can prove Webster's not only liars but forgers. This is hard, but listen: In June there was a short controversy between them and myself in reference to colored pictures. Their article was headed "Stealing a Baby," which threatens of the times no doubt remember, and wound up by publishing a letter purporting to have been written by A. J. Sheldon, dated Cleveland, June 20th, 1896, stating that Mr. Sheldon had examined the pictures made by Willoughby, of Ohio, and that they would not do or compare with the Spherotypes. Mr. Sheldon says he never wrote any such letter and pronounces it a falsehood and forgery. What do the public think of this, or what would not a man do that would forge another's name and letter, to sustain position?

After reading Friday's article we felt enraged to think a man would so impudently lie, and use such a name in a public controversy and insinuate that his name was used to make his name derogatory to his character that we were induced to write Messrs. Webster's a private note asking them to retract or make an apology for the injuries done the lady referred to in their article. This is one note and below is their answer:

MESSRS. WEBSTER & BROTHERS.—SIR:—Your article in this morning's Times in reference to private matters, demand an explanation. Your insinuations or reflections upon the lady's character is a lie, and if you do not retract through the morning's Times, you may expect to be treated as you justly deserve. Should the lady's husband or friends refuse to chastise you, I will, and that without mercy. I had intended continuing the controversy, but when men cease to do business in a business-like manner, and stoop so low as to cast reflections upon the private character of ladies, it is time to close public correspondence, as this now has become a personal affair.

W. L. TROXEL, Main street, between Second and Third.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 24, 1896.

MR. TROXEL.—SIR: Your note is at hand, and in reply, we would say that, so far as the lady is concerned, we meant no offense to her. We told the story as we heard it last winter—it was told as a joke upon you, and there was no intention of injuring the lady; but if we have done so, we will make any apology she may desire.

As for yourself, sir, we are sorry you should allow yourself to get so much excited in a newspaper controversy, as to send such insulting messages. We have no enmity against you personally, although you were the first aggressor, and what followed came as a natural consequence.

We did not once think of how it would affect the lady, and are sorry it did not occur to us. We ask a thousand apologies. We can't do so personally, never having seen her. As to the chastisement you speak of, why, if you really think as we do, it is not for us to say. You are really like a child, and you must be as easy on us as you are on her.

We come to the gallery about half-past eight o'clock, and go home about dusk. We go down Main to Fifth, out Fifth to Second, down Jefferson to Eighth, out Eighth to Walnut, etc.

Yours, etc., WEBSTER.

P. S. Sir: We would suggest the impropriety of apologizing to the lady through the public press, and we would suggest that you, as I leave for New York in the morning, to get what a new and lay in a new stock of goods.

W. L. TROXEL.
